Are you looking to take the hassle out of staff recruitment, induction and training?

Are you interested in receiving Government incentives?

Are you prepared to supervise an apprentice or trainee?

If you answered Yes to all 3 questions then Australian Training Company can provide you with real solutions.

What does ATC do?

ATC's services focus on satisfying your needs for entry level staff.

An ATC Apprenticeship or Traineeship involves matching your organisation with an apprentice or trainee recruited by ATC. Apprenticeships generally involve working and studying over 4 years whilst traineeships are self paced and are for periods up to 24 months.

ATC employs the apprentice or trainee of your choice and remains responsible for paying wages, superannuation, workers compensation and legislative compliance issues.

ATC arranges training and ATC's Account Managers visit every 6 to 8 weeks to monitor the apprentice or trainee and are only a phone call away if you have any concerns or issues. Your organisation provides on-the-job training and supervision of the apprentice or trainee.

Time Saver

ATC's Account Managers advertise and interview candidates for you. ATC's staff are very experienced at recruiting and have a large presence in the employment market. This results in selecting the right person for your organisation, first time and in a short time-frame. ATC's Account Managers organise the enrolment and training of your apprentice or trainee.

The Smart Solution

Introducing staff into your organisation at the entry level of a career pathway is easier when you partner with ATC. ATC's induction, monitoring and feedback processes have been extremely effective in increasing retention rates.

ATC's Apprentices and Trainees are enthusiastic to learn and gain valuable industry experience. By taking on an ATC Apprentice or Trainee your organisation will benefit from having staff who are receiving training in the latest work practices. Committing to an apprenticeship or traineeship ensures your organisation benefits from new ideas.

Introducing apprentices and trainees into your workforce provides the opportunity for other staff to advance into supervisory roles. ATC's Account Managers encourage apprentices and trainees and their supervisors to acknowledge achievements and to look for growth opportunities. ATC's Account Managers also offer valuable support for supervisors and are only a phone call away.

ATC Apprenticeships and Traineeships may attract government incentives which will benefit your organisation.

There are no long term contracts, no up-front payments and there is no obligation to employ the apprentice or trainee once they complete their qualification.

A long time performer

ATC has been offering apprenticeships and traineeships for the past 15 years and has commenced more than 10,000 apprentices and trainees.

Over this time ATC has grown and is now registered to provide apprenticeships and traineeships in NSW, QLD & ACT. ATC is accredited against the National Standards for Group Training and continues to exceed these standards. Innovation remains the key to ATC's continuing success.
